

I do not understand why you the FCC can not seem to understand that you are not above the law. We customers pay for the services of satellite radio so that we do not have to listen to unwanted dj's and their veiwpoints. I for one feel that most of them go way overboard with the "Mornring Shows, Afternoon Shows, etc." I listen for the music not for others to force their viewpoints and much of the time foul mouths on me. We customers are paying for a service and their is no reason for us not to have the benifit of its use. For people that travel, nothing is worse than having to search for a new radio station every 100 miles. This is no different than my having Direct tv. I pay for the right to have it and not be forced to use a local cable company, so what is the difference. Maybe satellie tv is going to be next. I can use my laptop with a wireless modem and listen to music, weather, etc. I really feel you are going overboard here, this is not George Orwell's "1984". If you ban satellite radio, are you going to reimberse all of us for the price we paid for the equipment? In closing, I am a dsiable veteran, DO NOT mess with my Constitutional Rights. I have given to much to this country already.
